

The little red colobus wakes up with her family high up in the trees.

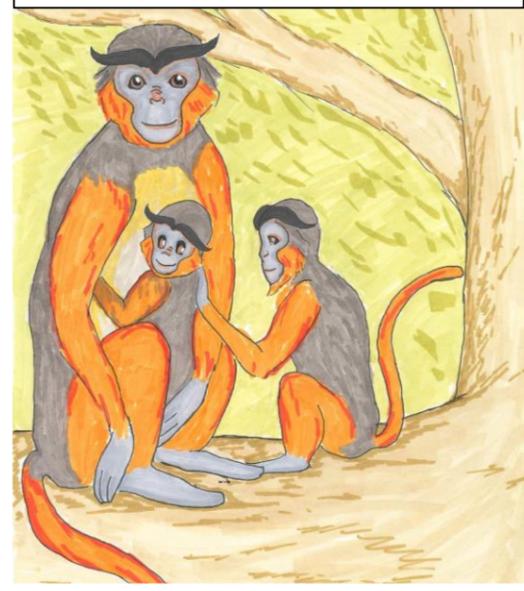

Not far away, they find their favorite food, the leaves of the Lophira alata (ironwood) tree!

After eating, the monkeys take a long rest.

It's time to see her new baby brother! Her mom doesn't let her carry him yet, but she holds his hand.

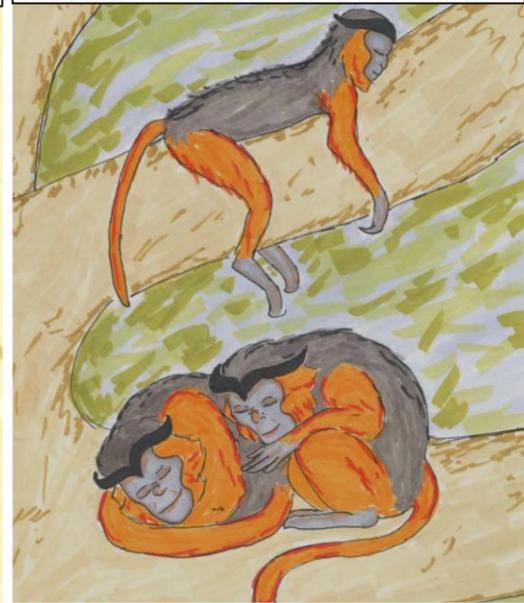

Now, the little red colobus's older sister grooms her fur so that she is nice and clean.

Finished! It's time to play! They chase each other back and forth, shake the branches, and pounce! Their friends join for the fun.

After a long day, it's time sleep in their forest home.
